

Pho

Vietnamese
Street Food

Vietnamese cuisine is a harmonious combination of many flavors, fresh ingredients from nature and sophisticated processing, creating diversity and richness in the three regions of North - Central - South. It is not only the art of eating but also a profound cultural feature, reflecting the history and lifestyle of the Vietnamese people. Characteristics of Vietnamese cuisine include harmony (five flavors), low fat, using a lot of fresh vegetables and spices, and strong community spirit.

(V) = VEGAN

Traditional foods for the Vietnamese Tet Festival include e.g. Banh Chung/Banh Tet (sticky rice cakes), boiled chicken, Gio lua (Vietnamese pork sausage), and Mut (candied fruits). They symbolize luck, family, and a prosperous start to the new year.

Harmony of the five flavors Vietnamese Cuisine emphasizes the balance of sour, spicy, salty, sweet, and bitter flavors in a dish or an entire meal.

Typical characteristics include low fat, lots of vegetables, fresh herbs, and dishes that are often balanced in yin and yang.
